

“Do you also suffer from extravagance?” - German students make energy conservation “cool”

The idea was to inspire the whole “School Family” for more energy efficiency and responsible energy consumption. But how to bring the message across? Students of the Gymnasium Gröbenzell (Germany) developed ideas in a seminar and tested them. One success was a video-contest. Read more at http://www.aplusplus.eu/uploads/media/GG_Seminar_111028kl.pdf

The Winning Video in the Contest! Congratulations!

Be different – Find your own way to save energy!

(Link to the video <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=C0M-g6a--lk>)

Training Material (in German Language) for Computer Sciences

Life-Cycle Analysis for Energy Using Products

Teachers at the FOSBOS Fürstfeldbruck (Germany) developed computer science lessons to teach students EXCEL and additionally enhance them to calculate Life-Cycle Costs of Energy Using Products.

Read more (in German language) http://www.aplusplus.eu/uploads/media/FOSBOS_Konzepti_on_01.pdf

Interested in teaching and training material for Energy Efficiency and Energy Conservation
Visit the Aplusplus website and find material in English, Bulgarian, Italian, Romania, German,
Greek language. <http://www.aplusplus.eu/download/public/>

